DEDICATION

To the manufacturers of Chicago Heights who have made this town prosper, and have so generously given their time, effort, and money to help make Bloom what it is today, we gratefully dedicate this record of our senior year at Bloom.

THE MAIN ENTRANCE

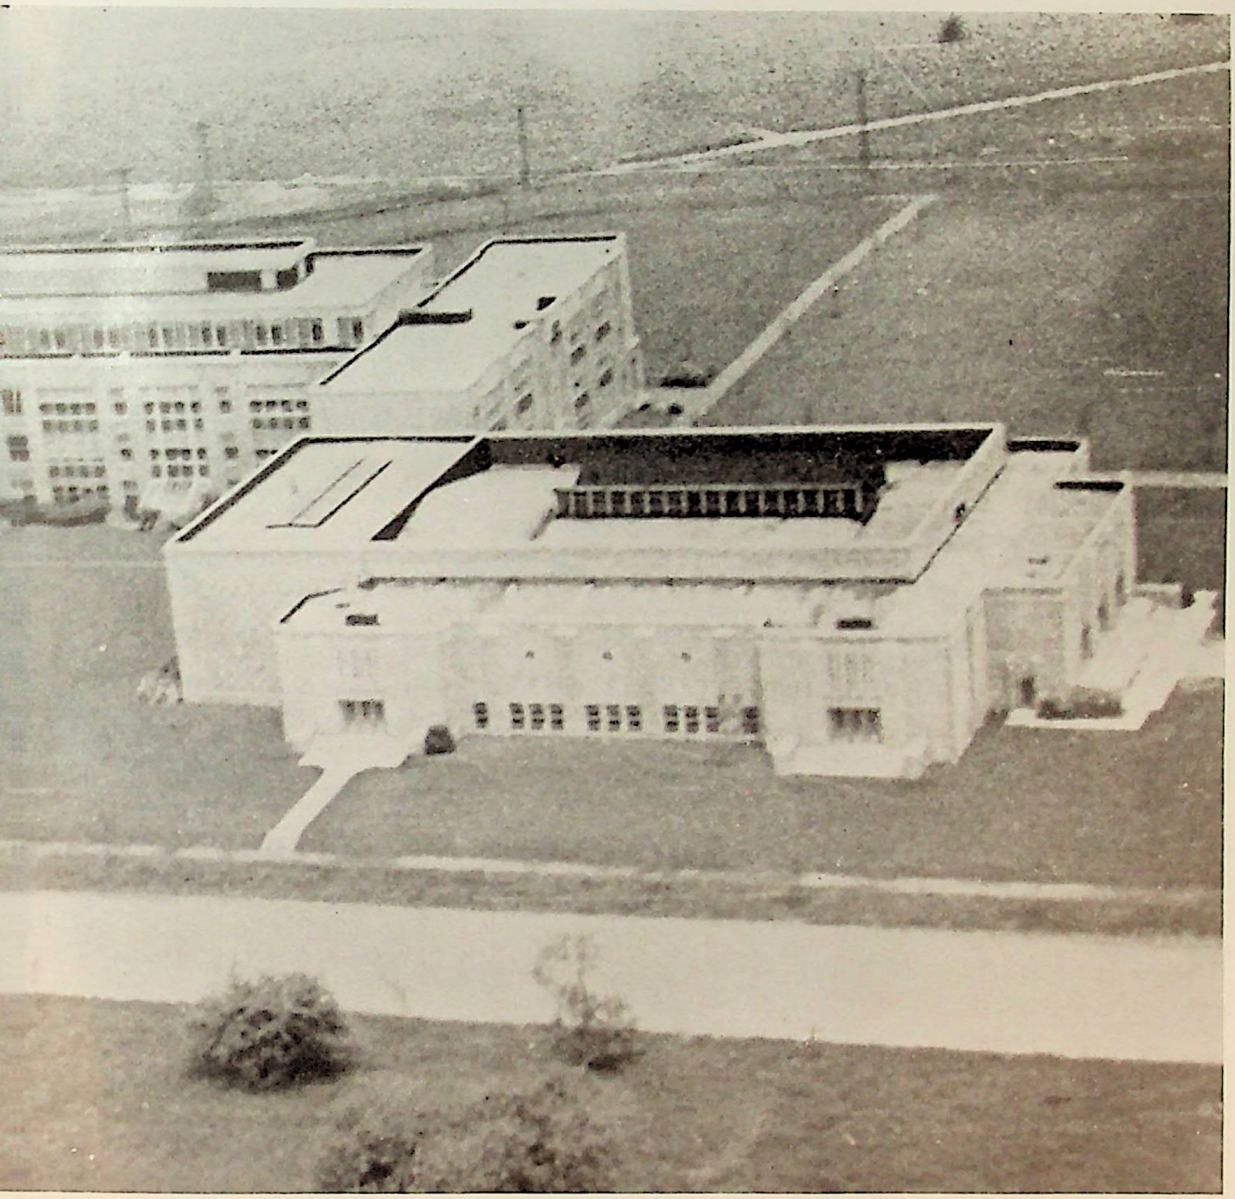

When the whistle blows at 8:30 and at 3:45 these steps are crowded

THE FACTORY

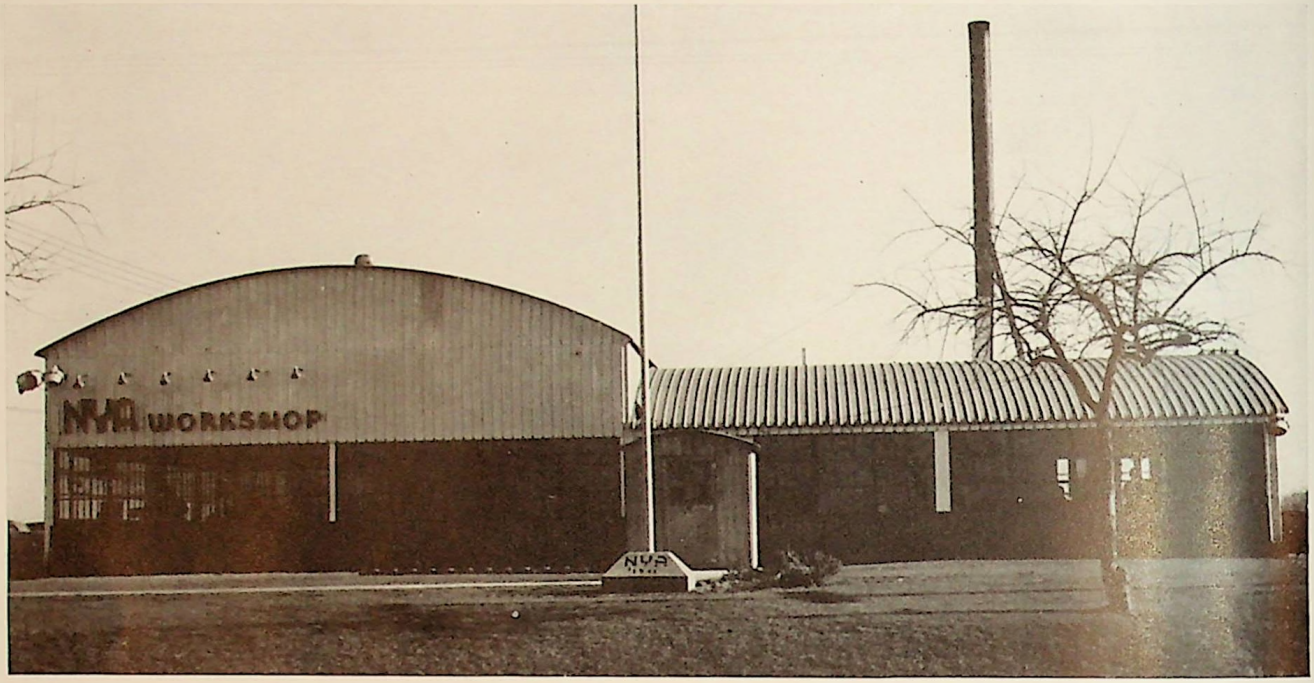

Bloom has ever been foremost among schools in the production of students who are observant of what is going on around them; therefore, it seems only natural that in this book we should compare our school to a factory, producing a very necessary product. We have pictured the incoming freshman and the underclassman as the raw material and the senior as the finished product; our faculty as the factory personnel. Evidence of our recent expansion, the N.Y.A. building, has greatly increased the quality and efficiency of many of our finished products by suiting them for jobs which call for specialized training. May Bloom ever lead, as she does today, in the production of better American citizens.

N.Y.A. BUILDING

F.F.A. BUILDING

We look into the future

PERSONNEL

Bloom's faculty, as factory personnel, has done an excellent job of guidance and direction in the formation of the raw material in all phases of the manufacturing process.

Robert Englehardt, Harvey Adair, Hildur Soderman, Raymond D. Meade,
Edwin Fenneman, Carlton Bindley, Emmett Richards

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Board of Education, a capable and industrious body of five men from our community, constitutes the "brain trust" which so efficiently manages this branch of the educational industry.

Under its supervision, Bloom's work has continued in its traditional excellent pattern despite various problems of finance and administration. The members of the board, individually devoted to the maintenance of high standards and ideals in education, conscientiously give their time and effort to the production of young American citizens, prepared for their struggle in the world with the united strength of character and knowledge.

We who leave Bloom as the "finished product" feel our indebtedness to these men and take this opportunity to express our gratitude.

2ND ROW—Mrs. M. R. Stanley, Mrs. A. Gierach, Mrs. C. Gunn, Mrs. B. H. Peterson, Mrs. E. Gardner, Miss Ora Theobald.

STOCKHOLDERS

The Bloom P.T.A., an organization of those who are stockholders in that they pay taxes for the school's support, serves to establish a connecting link between the school itself and the people of the community who are indirectly responsible for the fine educational opportunities offered at Bloom.

This group is vitally interested in its investment and thus fosters a better understanding between teachers and parents, which is valuable to the student in deriving the greatest possible benefit from his passage through Bloom's "factory of education." As a result of their various activities the community becomes acquainted with the problems of the school and is better able to aid in solving them successfully.

RAYMOND D. MEADE

Chief Executive

Upon Mr. Meade, our principal, rests a weighty executive responsibility, the management of Bloom's "factory of education." His capability and efficiency in coping with the innumerable problems of the school's daily routine are most commendable. Under his direction various improvements have been instituted, opening Bloom's way for greater progress toward the heights of excellence among educational institutions.

To us, who are leaving, he has been not only the admirable administrator of our school, but also a genuine friend and adviser.

VICE-PRESIDENT

PLANT SUPERVISORS

Sharing our principal's responsibilities and ably assisting in the administration of Bloom's "factory of education," we find Mr. Dyer, our assistant principal; Mr. Allard, Dean of Boys; Miss Theobald, Dean of Girls; Mr. Odegard, business manager, and Miss Soderman, registrar.

We, the Class of 1942, are grateful for their efforts in maintaining the high ideals and standards of our school.

RAW MATERIAL

Every June and February raw material, gradeschool students, is shipped into the manufacturing plant. The manufacturing process takes four years from the time the raw material arrives, to the time the product is shipped out.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Hail the Freshies—so small, and yet so big! They really played the part of big politicians in their class campaigns and elections in March. Their Freshman Frolic set the pace for many other class dances, too. Although they are the rawest of all materials at Bloom, they are not quite as green as they used to be!

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Three cheers for our Sophomores! They had what it took to make all their class projects a huge success. A "College Prep Club" for Sophomores was organized for the first time this year—a trip was taken by them to the University of Chicago and thereabouts. Selling candy after school and at the basketball games kept them busy, too—as busy as "B's" in the Bloomin' season!

JUNIOR CLASS

"Buy a pencil with the basketball schedule on it!" "Buy a candy bar!" So beseeched the peppiest class in school—the Juniors. Yes sir—our Juniors never had a dull moment! Their class mixer was a huge success, and their Junior Penny Social really kept the pennies flying. The Junior-Senior Prom, the biggest event of the year, drew a huge crowd of enthusiastic couples to the gym, too. Even though the symbolic color of their class was red, those Juniors sure knew how to keep their class treasury out of it!

TEMPERING PROCESS

One of the most important phases of the work of this factory is the athletic department, which we have called the tempering process, because its job is to temper and strengthen our bodies.

COACHING PERSONNEL

STANDING

COACH FRANK BUCHTEL—Freshmen Sophomore Football Coach—As a newcomer to the ranks of the coaching personnel, Coach Buchtel has worked wonders. He transformed a group of raw football candidates into a well trained and lightning swift team. The freshman-sophomore squad under the leadership of Coach Buchtel became the strongest lightweight team since 1939.

SEATED

COACH E. R. NELSON—Track and Freshman Football Coach—As a track coach he is rated as one of the finest in the state. To exemplify this, Coach Nelson's track teams now hold both District and South Suburban Track championships. He also coached in 1941 the first freshman football team ever to represent Bloom. As manager of athletics at Bloom and secretary of the South Suburban League, the duty of arranging all athletic engagements falls upon him. Aside from Coach Nelson's eminent success in the athletic field, he is also distinguished by his "congeniality" towards his squad members, his students and the athletic fans.

COACH C. M. SARFF—Heavyweight Football and Basketball Coach—As director of athletics in Bloom for many years Coach Sarff has seen several championship football and basketball teams pass before him. However, he keeps uppermost in the minds of his players that they should play the game for the love of the sport and for the benefits derived from it, rather than to "win at all costs." May Coach Sarff's record at Bloom follow him through the coming years.

COACH HADWIN M'CANN — (Not in picture) — Baseball and Lightweight Basketball Coach.

HEAVYWEIGHT SQUAD

Bloom's 1941 varsity football team, the smallest in years, began practice two weeks before their first game. The returning lettermen were Captain Edmund Tarquino, Armondo Cioe, Genesio Christofanelli, Tom Cooney, and Tony Coccia. With few lettermen to rely on, Coach Sarff was faced with his traditional "green" team.

Naperville was Bloom's first opponent. After a nip and tuck battle the Sarffmen, lacking experience and being outweighed, managed to deadlock the Red Raiders 0 to 0. Next came the championship bound Joliet team, with Don McAllister leading the Steelmen to an overwhelming 32 to 6 victory over the Trojans. Bloom's lone score was rung up by virtue of a 35 yard pass from Christofanelli to Schwoeffermann. While still suffering from the crippling Joliet defeat, the Trojans encountered a powerful Argo team and were defeated 13 to 0. On October 3, the Sarffmen hit the road to tangle with Kankakee. It proved to be the first victory. Touchdowns were made by Paulsen on a pass and by J. Simone on two goal smashes. Olivieri made two conversions. Final score was K.K.K. 0—Bloom 21. The Trojans then returned home to tussle with Urbana. After a hard fought game the Urbanites nosed out the Bloom eleven 18 to 6. The one tally for the Sarffmen was the result of Frank Laya's brilliant 30 yard cutback, one of the highlights of the entire season. Both the Freeport and the Calumet City games were lost by 6 to 0 scores. In the latter game Bloom fought with rejuvenated vigor but nevertheless was defeated. Longing to avenge these twin defeats the Trojans about faced and knocked out Blue Island to the tune of 12 to 0. James Simone nailed up the two touchdowns for B.T.H.S. Then came the final game between the bitter ancient rivals, Bloom and Thornton. With the odds against them the Trojans fought tooth and nail to succeed in upsetting the Wildcats 6 to 0. J. Simone crashed over for the lone goal.

FRESHMAN - SOPHOMORE SQUAD

The 1941 Freshman-Sophomore football team began its season with a new coach and an inexperienced squad. From this combination developed a powerhouse football squad. The lightweights under the leadership of Coach Frank Buchtel played Naperville as a curtain raiser. They rolled over the Red Raiders 25 to 0. Every man on the squad played on September 19. The Joliet Steelmen invaded Bloom only to be defeated by the Buchtelmen 12 to 0. John Zaranti and Ed Jackson rang up tallies. The Buchtelmen's next victims were the Argonauts. The latter were trimmed to the tune of 20 to 0. Making their biannual trip to Kankakee the Fresh-Sophs smashed the Three Kays 12 to 0. Jackson and Cappriotti scored the touchdowns within two minutes of each other. The battle with K.K.K. brought about many injuries, however. The Trojans traveled to Freeport and were defeated in a sloppy, mudded field 6 to 0. A mania of injuries infected the Buchtelmen. They encountered Calumet City and were set back 12 to 0. The next fray was with Blue Island. The team mustered enough strength from their injury riddled ranks to whip the Islanders 6 to 0. In the last game of the season, the Bloom Lights and Thornton Lights clashed. Bloom's powerhouse became stymied. The champion Wildcat team proved to be too tough and defeated the Trojans 12 to 0. This was the most successful Freshman-Sophomore team in three years.

JUNIOR VARSITY SQUAD

Bloom had its first Junior Varsity Team. Coach "Red" Sullivan was placed at the head of the newly formed squad which was made up of future candidates for the varsity squad. The Sullivanites' first game was played in Calumet City. The squad was not fully organized and suffered a 24 to 6 defeat. The next foe was the powerful Morton team. The J.V.'s again fell 19 to 6. The first game with La Grange was only a half game. The score at the end was 6 to 0 in the Granger's favor. After three defeats the Sullivanites began to show their colors in the form of coördination. The second encounter with La Grange proved that statement. The Trojans smashed out a 24 to 7 victory. Heartened by their victory they rolled over Calumet City in the second meeting 12 to 7. Then, to top off the season Coach Sullivan's crew toppled an impressive Gary eleven 12 to 6. The backfield men responsible for most of the scoring were Captain J. Benesh, Joe Posluzny, Ray Izzarelli, Ralph Brauer, Sam Prisco, and Mike Paoletta. In the first year the squad has produced a fighting eleven.

FRESHMAN SQUAD

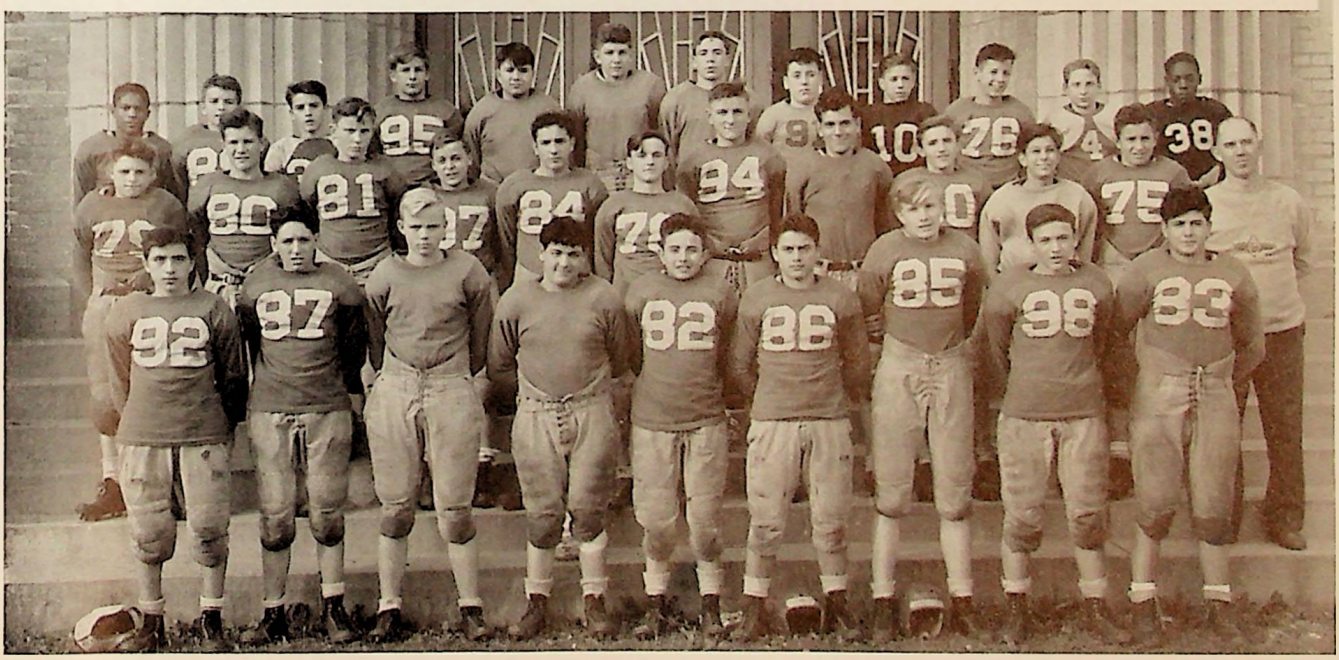

This is the first freshman team ever to wear Bloom's colors. It was placed under the very capable guidance of Coach E. R. Nelson. Coach Nelson is a veteran track and football coach and is best qualified to train fellows who never before played organized football. The freshmen were soon ready for their first football game representing Bloom. Blue Island was the first opponent. The Nelsonites defeated the Islanders 12 to 6. Next, a strong eleven from Morton invaded Bloom. The Trojans fought a see-saw battle. When the final gun sounded the score was Morton 7, Bloom 7. The freshies had a return match with Blue Island. Again the Islanders were defeated by a superior Bloom team 7 to 0. The final game in which the Nelsonites engaged was at Lemont. Here the Trojans found themselves confronted with the Lemont Varsity squad. It was a one-sided affair, with the freshmen, against overwhelming odds, holding the foe to 19 points. So ended an excellent season from the standpoint of games won and experience gained.

HEAVYWEIGHT BASKETBALL

With a tough schedule in view the Bloom Heavyweight Basketball Squad began their 1941-42 season. After a short training and conditioning period Coach Sarff's boys engaged Kankakee as a season opener. In this game the Trojans showed great promise in defeating the K.K.K. quintet.

The players who returned from last season and who were used in Bloom's main attack were: Forwards—Captain Frank Olivieri, James Bogan, Chris Garzelloni, Ralph Brauer; Guards—second-semester captain Joe Piazza, and Ray Izzarelli; Centers—Bumpy Smith and Ed Stanich. The newer members of the squad who succeeded in alternating in first string center position were Emmet Parker and Louis Irons. In most of the games at forward position were Bob Schwoefferman, Bob Gavin, Bob Rush, and Guy Jacobucci. At guard position were Frank Grupp and Frank Calderone, at center position—Frank Kovach.

KNEELING—F. Olivieri, J. Bogan, J. Piazza, E. Parker, C. Garzelloni, R. Brauer, Coach C. M. Sarff.

During the 1941-42 season the Bloom cagers played a total of eighteen games. In nine games they were victorious. Out of Bloom's 644 points, Captain Frank Olivieri scored 157 in ten games. High point man for the entire season (eighteen games) was James Bogan with 201 tallies.

Captain Frank Olivieri, being the main spark of the Trojan machine, celebrated his last game by scoring thirty-three points against Parker High of Chicago. After Ollie's retirement from organized basketball Joe Piazza, a junior, was selected 1942 captain.

The Bloom Lights under the guidance of Coach McCann finished a 50-50 season. Co-captains, Ed Janis and Bob Lupien, piloted the ponies through their 17 game schedule. Playing in forward positions were Leonard Dorazio, Ed Jackson, Edilo Paolini, Fred Hesemann, Russell Killion, Armando Pignotti, Bob Peterson, and Frank Dominic. At guard there were Ed Janis, Bob Lupien, Robert Krauss, Adam Novak, and Bill Matthews. Leading the centers were Herbie Bonds, George Flemming and John Pate.

The Lights began their first semester attacks under the able captainship of Ed Janis, a veteran cager. Under his regime the Bloom cagers brought home many wins. The second semester the captain was Bob Lupien, a senior, who was noted for his quick style of play and his resourcefulness under fire. Lupe led the Trojan attacks into the home stretch.

The high point man during the entire season was Skippy Dorazio, whose barrage of points amounted to 67; second highest in total number of points made was 58 by Paolini. The mainstays of the lightweight attack were Ed Janis, guard; Bob Lupien, guard; Ed Paolini, forward; Leo Dorazio, forward; Ed Jackson, forward; Fred Hesemann, forward; Bill Matthews, guard; Adam Novak, guard; John Pate, center, and Herb Bonds, center. While the '42 team was not a championship team, it was, however, a team that had spirit and fought hard for every game.

SENIOR CAGERS—Hail the 1942 champions of the Bloom intra-mural league. Under the guidance of Coach "Red" Sullivan and captained by Tommy Paulsen, the senior quintet succeeded in defeating three underclass teams in two Round Robin playoffs. The majority of points were scored by: T. Paulsen, R. Schmitt, R. Ruse, C. Layman, P. Landolina, R. Cameron, L. Scartozzi, J. Posluszny, and B. Helsel.

JUNIOR CAGERS—The junior team was under the direction of Coach Frank Buchtel. After making a shaky start, the boys ended up in third place. Captained by Oren Sherman the three year men fought hard against superior teams. Although not winning many games, the junior team produced several promising basketball players. Leading scorers were: O. Sherman, B. Stein, C. Carducci, and G. Buttell.

INTRA-MURAL BASKETBALL

FRESHMAN CAGERS—The freshies proved to be the most surprising intra-class team in the circuit. Trained by Coach Frank Buchtel the first year men displayed themselves as a well-trained and powerful team. Co-captains, Bob Page and Art Palanka, led the freshman attacks which placed them in a tie position for second place in the Intra-Mural League standings. The top tally makers were: C. Pierandozzi, B. Page, and A. Palanka.

SOPHOMORE CAGERS—Coached by "Red" Sullivan and captained by Frank Dominik the sophomores ended their loop playoffs in tie for second place. The second year men were a constant threat to every team in the cage race. Although tied for second place, the Sophs' system of play and knowledge of basketball proved to be a powerful factor in their success. Leaders in the scoring column were: F. Dominik, D. Anderson, V. DeGuilio, and E. D'Apice.

BLOOM 1942 TRACK TEAM

Coach Nelson's thin clads, the present holders of the South Suburban and District Track Championships are continuing their sensational accomplishments. The trophies signifying both victories are pictured on the division page. Among those returning tracksters who are being counted on are Bob Schmitt, Bumpy Smith, Fred Knauss, and Louis Scartozzi, in the running department. In the weight field are Jerry Lottinville and Armando Cioe, discus throwers. Arkie Myers and Bob Barwig will take care of the shot putting. The broad jump and high jump will be executed by Bumpy Smith and Louis Irons.

The preceding 1941 track team succeeded in capturing both South Suburban and District Track Championships. Coach Nelson's squads were headed by Chuck Barbour of the seniors and Bumpy Smith of the juniors. During the championship meets last year, Chuck Barbour, high hurdler, Dave Roe, discus, Tom Paulsen, half miler, Don Steffan, quarter and half mile, Tony Spinozzi, pole vaulter, and Eddie Czyz, 220 yard, 100 yard, and relays were responsible for trophies acquired. With the defending of the championships in view, Coach Nelson's boys embark on another successful year.

BASEBALL TEAM

Coach McCann and his squad are training hard to get in condition for their '42 baseball season. This year an eight-game schedule faces a team composed mainly of new material. Bob Lustig, last year's shortstop, is the only returning letterman. Facing these difficulties the Bloom coach is tentatively choosing his team from these men. John Benesh and Alphon Currier are mound prospects. In the infield the following men seem to be slated for action; Guy Jacobucci at third, Bob Lustig at short, Armando Pignotti at second, Jack Bergin at first. Probably patrolling the outfield will be Dan Christy, left field; Bob Schwoeffermann, center; and Ken Currier, right field. In back of the plate will be Mike Zozulow. Others trying to make a berth on the team are "Cannonball" Cylke, Herbie Bonds, and Adam Nowak.

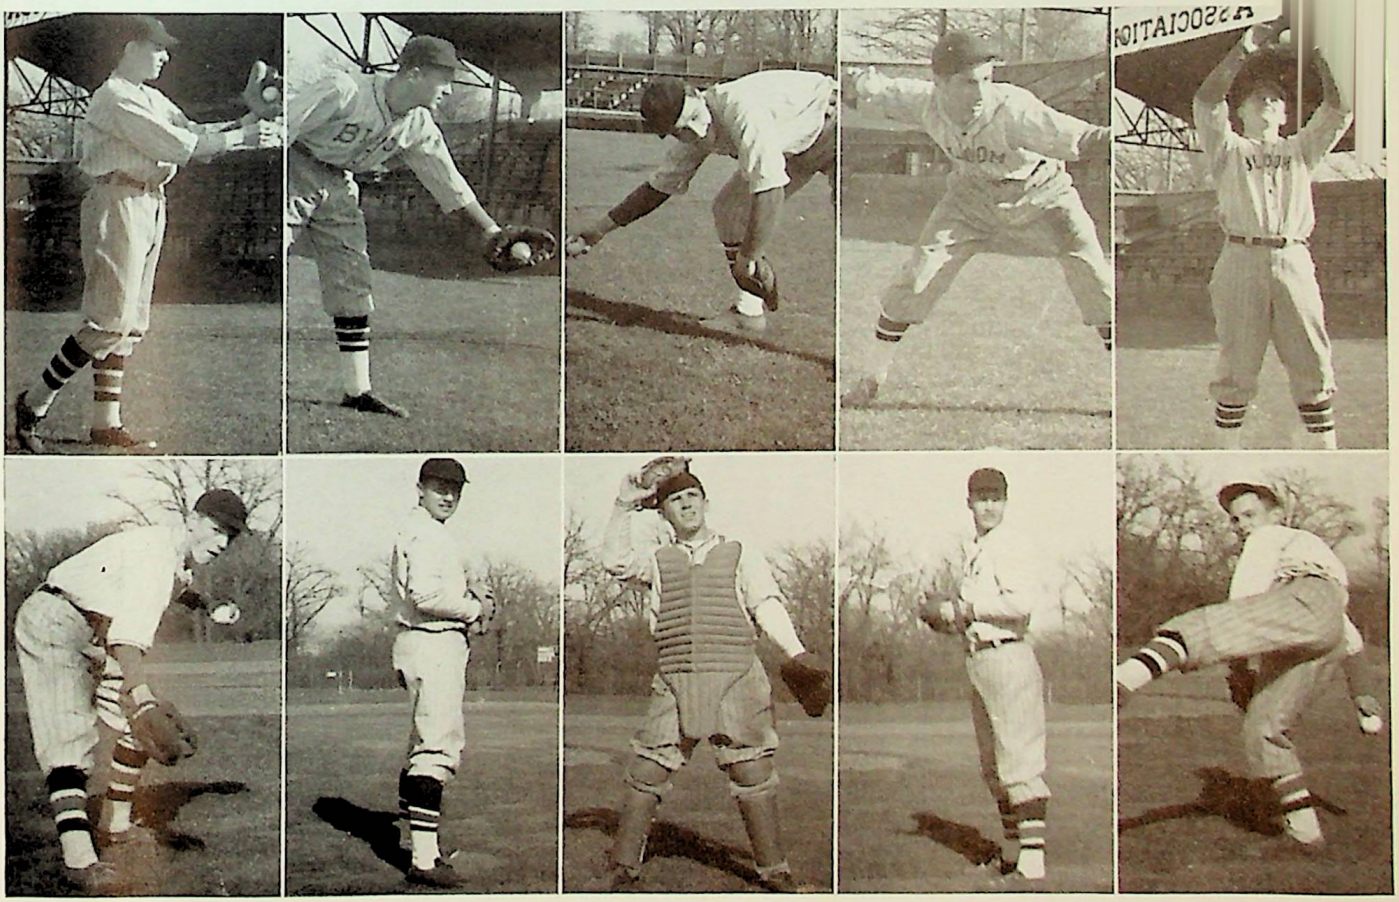

The Trojan nine will try to capture their third consecutive South Suburban championship. Last year's team shared the South Suburban championship with Lockport.

1ST ROW — B. Spelbring, J. Cook, B. Allen.

THE WELCOMING HAND

"Mr. Meade? First door to your left." Acting as a subsidiary of the Service Corps, the Hostesses, assisted in welcoming and directing strangers through the labyrinthian halls of Bloom. Miss Theobald was the nominal head of the group.

THE TWAIN MEET

"Oh, East is East and West is West." But Kipling was wrong. In the Executive Board the proverbial fence between teachers and students was broken down. The board was made up of an equal number of class officials and teachers. It was presided over by Mayor Bill Allen, who, however, had no regular vote.

THE STUDENTS RULE

"I make the motion that the waste-paper baskets be placed in the precise center of all classrooms for greater convenience." Alas, the proposition was defeated. But the Student Council went on to pass more useful legislation. The council consisted of one representative and one non-voting alternate from each homeroom. The presidents of the clubs also were included. When Miss Gerner left, Miss Herr and Miss Spaulding became co-sponsors of the council. The greatest development of the sessions was the creation of a Defense Board, with the Mayor, William Allen, as co-ordinator. The board carried on such defense activities as the sale of Defense Stamps, knitting for the Red Cross, and a Red Cross war-relief fund. Several important changes were made in the Constitution of the City of Bloom. The mayor was given the power to remove, with the agreement of the sponsor, the officials whom he has appointed. The mayor also was given the power to remove an official appointed by a commissioner or a chairman provided that he has the concurrence of the sponsor and said commissioner or chairman. Also the three commissioners may be impeached along with the mayor, clerk, and treasurers.

RAZZLEDAZZLE DAYS

Let's have a B-T-H-S locomotive. One-two-three, let's go!! B! T! H! S! Whee! Whee! Choo! Choo! With the vigor and force of a behemoth of the rails, that cheer echoed from the bleachers during many of our athletic contests. It gave Bloom's teams irresistible momentum to vanquish their opponents. The Cheer Leaders Club acted as the engineer of that locomotive. Sponsored by Mr. Hill, the members met to practice at the beginning of the season. During their later club meetings they decided who should go to out-of-town games.

SERVICE WITH A SMILE

Lost your sweetheart? Call at the Service Bureau. There you will probably not find her. But call anyway. It is an interesting place to visit. Everything from soup to nuts has been turned in as a lost article. After thirty days the article, if not claimed, reverts to the finder. Originally called the Lost and Found, the Bureau has taken over many more duties and has been renamed. One of the most important services it offered was the sale of Defense Stamps. The Service Bureau acted as a part of the Service Corps under Mr. Allard. Jeanette Sala was the chief.

"Look at those boys and girls sitting in the hall studying. They have probably been acting up in class again. What's that? You want to see my hall pass? Dear me! I must have misplaced it. No! No! Not that! Mr. Allard, this guide check was all a mistake." Acting as a part of the Service Corps under the direction of Mr. Allard, the Hall Guides become an essential part of the school administration. Louis Matusiak was the student head of the organization.

NO PARKING, PLEASE

At the parting of the ways, who should be standing but a Bloom traffic guide as immobile as a cigar store Indian. Firm as the Rock of Gibraltar he stands, ready to turn back any jay-walkers. An integral part of the Service Corps, the Traffic Guides were directed by Mr. Allard. Dick Wolff was chief and was assisted by a lieutenant on each floor. The guides were in charge of traffic direction during assembly seating, registration, and lunch hours in the cafeteria.

LEAGUE-AL NOTICE

League? National? American? Of Nations? Girls? That's the one I want. No, of course not the W.C.T.U.! The girls of Bloom have become members of another sort of league. One of the main events of their schedule was the Senior Mother-Daughter Banquet. The theme of this celebration was an All-American tour. Moving pictures of Alaska and South America were shown.

The meetings of the group were always opened by the Girls' League Song. For entertainment they had either a speaker, a piano player, or a play. Once members of the choir sang for the organization. The girls presented a Christmas program at the Community Center. They also sponsored a freshman party to welcome the incoming girls. They attended he Suburban Conference of the Girls' League, which was held at Morton of Cicero.

M. Williams, C. Stevenson, Miss Theobald, H. Peterson, G. Blodgett.

FEMININE FINANCIERS

The wolves of Wall Street will never be able to swindle some of the fair members of the class of '45. In fact, they will have to take precautions lest they lose their scalps to these interlopers. The Freshmen Girls' Business Club, a new organization sponsored by Mr. Bull, was formed to acquaint the girls with some of the fundamentals of business which they could not get in the classroom. The group played host to the local Women's Business Club during one of their sessions.

WHAT FOOLS THESE MORTALS BE

And thus the necessity for capable teachers becomes apparent. The members of the Future Teachers Club, sponsored by Miss Smith, acquainted themselves with the rudiments of higher education. They discussed leaflets on things of interest and personalities in the educational world. A scrap book was constructed about the club, and exchange letters were written. They also attended several meetings of the Sophomore College Preparatory Club to hear representatives of some colleges speak.

SHADES OF SHAKESPEARE!

The legitimate stage is staging a comeback. Just ask any of those ardent young hams. . . . I mean Hamlets who happen to belong to the Beginning Dramatics Club. The club received Miss Southgate as sponsor when Miss Puterbaugh resigned. Made up for the most part of underclassmen, it studied speech and enunciation and practiced reading poetry. They acted out several small skits for themselves, and presented one super three-act production, "Good Morning Glory," which was open to the school.

Under the direction of Miss E. P. Hess, the Junior Librarians were introduced to the rudiments of library procedure, and were given practical experience in the school library. During their meetings, they discussed methods of book classification, covering the Dewey decimal system and the Library of Congress. They also learned the duties of an assistant librarian, aiding the librarians during their library hours in school. When they leave the school, they are qualified to become library assistants in any library.

THEY TENDED THEIR KNITTING

What could be sweeter than a soldier in a sweater? That was the query of the members of the Knitting Club as they responded to the call of the Red Cross. Under the leadership of Miss Marshall, the girls learned to cast on, knit, and purl. After realizing this goal, they began to knit their own sweaters. Those who finished this project knitted afghan squares and sweaters for the Red Cross. They used the extra money they collected in their concessions to buy yarn for the Red Cross.

WELL, FANCY THAT!

Well, sew me down! There are actually some girls in Bloom who know how to crochet or at least make a stab at it (or their finger). Miss Waisath undertook the job of teaching the girls the tricks of the trade. About half of the girls knew something about crocheting before they joined the club. Most of the girls worked on definite projects such as hats, scarfs, doilies, and purses.

TOO MANY COOKS

I'm just a little home-maker. No, of course I'm not a carpenter! The Home Economics Club was sponsored by Miss Penn after Miss Bloedel resigned. The group was in charge of the costuming for the pageant and presented the faculty with tea on St. Patrick's Day. Also among its activities were a scavenger hunt, a roller-skating party and a formal initiation.

CONVALESCING NICELY

He's worse! Quick, nurse. Too late! The hearse. Florence Nightingale and Clara Barton had nothing on the Home Nursing Club. Under the supervision of Mrs. Neeley, R. N., the members worked toward the achievement of a Red Cross certificate. They learned how to make beds in hospital style, to use hot and cold compresses, to bathe a patient, and to care for a bed-ridden patient. When Mrs. Neeley was called by the Red Cross Miss Beatty became temporary sponsor of the organization.

WELL, STRIKE ME PINK!

The ancient thunder that drew Rip Van Winkle into the Catskills resounded from the walls of the Bowl-Aire whenever the Girls Advanced Bowling Club went into action. However nobody went to sleep as Rip did. An alley is not conducive to slumber—there are too many cats. The girls in the club either had spent a year in the Beginning Bowling Club, or were seniors who had gained experience elsewhere. Miss Holden sponsored the club.

SPARE ME MORE!

Speaking in the language of the "gutter" there was foul play in some dark alley. Yes, the "turkeys" must have fairly "split" as Murphy "railroaded" them to the pin. Be that as it may, the Beginning Bowling Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Hedges, had a striking season. They bowled in the Chicago Heights Bowling alleys. A few of the outstanding bowlers were: Bernice Schweer, Sophie Kudra, Ann Zatalik, Laurel Draben, and Dolores Harms.

TAKE A LETTER

Shorthand? Longhand? Guess I've got the wrong hand, so I'll deal myself another. The Shorthand Club, under the direction of Miss Lynott, sought to gain high speed in writing shorthand. They intended to enter the sectional, district, and state contests, but these were cancelled for the duration of the war. Last year's team won second place in the district, and one member placed eighth in the state contest.

THE WEAKER SEX?

The athletic prowess of the Amazons of Bloom rivaled the Herculean feats of the boys. Many girls took part in the Girls Athletic Association, and of these nine members from the four classes were elected to the G.A.A. Board. The girls participated in several play-days, one of them at Bloom, and took part in basketball, volleyball, tennis, table tennis, and badminton tournaments. Over 150 girls engaged in the basketball and volleyball tournaments held after school.

ROBIN HOOD'S RESURRECTION

I shot an arrow into the air. It must have parted someone's hair. This ball and chain is hard to bear. Bill Tell was wrong to take a dare. The archery season this year was very successful. The girls practiced last autumn every night after school when the weather permitted. Many girls came out to practice and of these there were many who rose above the 135 point bracket. To climax the season a contest was held between the leading archerettes.

BLOOM'S RACQUETEERS

Which is better (or worse)—a good badminton player, or a bad badminton player? "Birdie" lousy, isn't it? (pardon the cold.) The Badminton and Table Tennis Club was made up of the girls who were interested in those sports. Under the direction of Miss Veazey, the girls who wished to participate in each sport chose their officers and proceeded to play games. A tournament was held in the club.

IS THERE A WINDOW OPEN?

Are fugitives from a drafting board slackers? Perhaps. But the Drafting Club engaged in no such activities. The club was organized for the boys who were particularly interested in drafting and expected to follow it as a vocation. Mr. Peterson sought to give the boys a broader knowledge of mechanical drawing. He instructed the boys in the duplicating of drawings, blue-prints, photostatic copies, operation of the blue-printing machine, and modern developments in drafting.

Dah dit dah dit . . . dah dah dit dah . . . One might say this was the motto of the Radio Club code classes, as they whipped out their cq's on the key every noon. Two classes were held daily during lunch hour, one beginning and one advanced. The club, organized for the purpose of learning the theory of radio and sponsored by Mr. Sears, could not use its station, W9HFN, because of the war and had to content itself with operating the public address system and doing electrical wiring about school.

CINCINNATUS WAS A PIKER

Keeping their plow shares shiny and walking a straight furrow, the Future Farmers of America cultivated an agricultural attitude and raised everything including the dickens . . . I mean chickens. Under the tutelage of Mr. Rowley, they progressed a long way in their knowledge of animal husbandry and crop cultivation, and some even carried on their own projects out of school. The boys kept records on these projects, figuring their time and expenses to see whether they were able to make a profit or whether their experiment was a failure.

KINGPINS OF THE ALLEYS

Look at those silly boys! Still playing marbles and they've got long pants on! And they're using cannonballs instead of the usual agates. Doubtless the international situation was the cause of this dereliction. Under the supervision of Mr. Busey, the Boys Bowling Club organized into ten five-man teams and took such attractive names as Screwballs, Scavengers, and Trojans. The Bowl-Aire alleys were the scene of their activities. Match games were held with Blue Island and Thornton.

THE TOWEL BRIGADE

The Manager's club, composed of Coach Nelson's handy-men, had an industrious season. They ushered at all the home basketball games and in the Regional Tournament held here. The boys sold emblems, badges, and feathers to raise money. Several teas were held after school, the managers consuming food prepared by the home economics department. At the beginning of the term the club drew up a constitution designed to keep refractious members in order.

THEY SCOOPED THE SCHOOL

Under the progressive leadership of Jack Powell, the Broadcaster wrote many pages of hot copy into the annals of high school journalism. A small first semester's staff of 23 was followed by the largest staff in the history of publication, 45 students being on the payroll. A new rotogravure section was added to the paper, appearing in it each month. Bob Helsel, staff photographer, had one picture accepted and printed in the section.

QUIÉN SABE?

The Spanish Club, sponsored by Mr. Berg, had as a primary objective a better understanding of the Latin Americas. During their sessions, they studied the Spanish language, and several members made talks on the customs, dress, and living conditions of our neighbors to the South. Mr. Berg also entertained the club with an account of his travels in Mexico. Several of the group carried on a correspondence with people in South American countries.

FRESHMAN FIGURE-HEADS

Reading and writing and rhythm-a-tic. Yes, there are many things of interest in mathematics. Just ask anyone who has a mortgage on his arithmetic book. The Mathematics Club was organized to discuss and develop the more entertaining facts of mathematics. The club, made up of freshmen, was sponsored by Miss Spaulding. During their sessions, the members of the group discussed members, symbols, puzzles, and the historical background of mathematics. Several quiz programs were held.

THOSE STUDIOUS SOPHOMORES!

A newly formed organization, the Sophomore College Preparatory Club was under the sponsorship of Miss Herr. During the year, they were busy studying college entrance requirements and different types of colleges. Some of the members made reports on the desirability of certain colleges. They took personality tests, and talked to representatives of the colleges who happened to be visiting the school on the days of their meetings. In March they made a visit to the University of Chicago.

BUSINESS AS USUAL

This is strictly confidential—but the Business Club made some pretty shrewd transactions during its weekly meetings. The club was made up of those who were interested in becoming an essential cog in the business world. Several outside speakers entertained the club, and some members gave reviews of books they had read. The club made several field trips, one of them to an office equipment show in Chicago. Parliamentary procedure was used throughout all club sessions.

MIGHTIER THAN THE SWORD

The Creative Writing Club, inaugurated for the first time at Bloom, gained a membership of eleven. Seven of its members were freshmen, so Bloom can expect to have a bevy of good writers in time to come. The Club wrote plays, poems, shortstories, and articles of various kinds. Much of their work was for "The Tower," Bloom's literary magazine. Miss Drinkwater sponsored the club and gave the budding authors her criticism and advice.

AND IN REBUTTAL . . .

Did he rise to debate? If he did, he probably swallowed hook, line, and sinker. Oh, well, in de-baiting one must be careful to avoid snares. Under the mentorship of Miss Pfeil the Debate Team took part in four tournaments. This year they joined the Metropolitan Debate League, which includes eleven schools in this territory. The club organized and selected its team early in the year. Those who made the team were Joey Sedik, Mario Thomas, Maxine Weber, June Schmeckpeper, Jean Cameron, Donald Schmeckpeper, and Willie Washington.

WATCH THE BIRDIE . . .

Amid the camara-derie of "shutter-bugs," Mr. Lare led the photography club through what might be termed a picturesque season. Under his instruction, the group learned how to develop and print films and how to take photographs in and out side. He encouraged those who showed any promise in printing to take training in enlarging. The club sold picture postcards of Bloom to raise money. It also aided in taking pictures for the Bloom annual.

SUCH CRANKY PEOPLE!

Who was the man behind the man behind the projector? Mr. Sears, of course. It was he who led the musclemen of Room 317 through a busy season. Lillian Wojcik was manager of the Projector Operators' Club and gave out the assignments. Jack Forrest was in charge of the equipment. The club met every Friday and outlined the program for the coming week. At the end of the school year a few of the outstanding and most responsible of the operators were selected by the sponsor and officers for a special award.

MICHELANGELO'S MINIONS

Speaking sketchily, the Pencil and Palette club had a colorful season. They made the posters for most of the organizations about school, made most of the decorations for the school dances, and sometimes helped in decorating the cafeteria. They also manufactured placques which they sold. Early in the second semester, Mrs. Gjerde replaced Miss Borden as sponsor of the group, when Miss Borden left her position in the school.

THEY GOT THE BIRD

Hurry, Watson! The salt! I see a robin! Making bird and nature study their aim, the members of the Audubon Club sought to get better acquainted with the denizens of the wild. The club, sponsored by Miss Haviland, is a member of the National Junior Audubon Society and of the Illinois State Junior Academy of Science. It spent much of its time in the preparation of the Audubonite, a news letter containing the nature writings of the members. This booklet is sent to other clubs in the state.

THE TERPSICHOREAN TOE

When men were brave and ladies fair, they danced. In a minuet the rest of the steps taken by the Beginning Dancing Club toward becoming dauntless dancers will be yours. Yes, it was a rather gruesome affair at first, and several toes were stamputated. But, after a little practice the club became more proficient at the art of the agile apology, and too, less toemicides were committed. Miss Wile played the part of instructor to the group.

"FOR ALL THE WORLD'S A STAGE"

"And all the men and women merely players." The Modern Stage Club, however, did not dote on the voluminous writings of Shakespeare. Their interest lay in another quarter, the plays and players of the present day. Under the directorship of Miss Mellinger, they entered the realms of present-day drama. At one of their meetings a speaker gave a report on "The Corn Is Green" and other current New York plays. The group also made plans to visit some Chicago theatre and witness an exponent of modern drama.

LAETI ROMANI

Great Caesar's ghost! A happy Roman! Generally Romans are thought to have a very dignified and solemn air. Be that as it may, the members of the Beginning Latin Club have titled themselves with that appellation. During their club sessions, they delved deep into the realms of the past. Under the sponsorship of Miss Haskett they studied ancient Roman history from the days of Aeneas to Caesar. At a Christmas party the members played games copied from those of the ancient Romans.

ROMANI HODIERNI

Well, well. The glory that was Rome's has been resurrected. Once again Roman legions parade through the halls of Bloom. Yes, the Romans have revived so much that they even publish a newspaper. The Romans of Today were made up of the members of the advanced Latin classes who wished to join. During the club periods they worked on preparing the "Florella," Bloom's Latin newspaper, for publication. The club also worked on plans for their Latin banquet which was held in April. Louis Matusiak was editor of the "Florella" and Jane Ellen Baselt was treasurer.

HERE WE ARE

Here we are! With pride in our labors and a sense of achievement we place this book in your hands. May you enjoy this chronicle of your school days throughout your life as much as we have enjoyed compiling it. May nostalgic memories of your days in Bloom ever return when you leaf through it.

Headed by Shirly Vanderwalker, the staff strove to make the 1942 Bloom the peer of any yearbook in the land. This year a new sponsor, Miss Thompson, took over the task of chiefing the annual work. Ruth Martin acted as associate editor and Rosemond Wolff as assistant editor.

Bob Helsel, staff photographer, took most of the pictures other than those in the individual class sections. He was assisted by Dana Elliott. Mr. Lare acted as photography adviser.

Mr. Berg was financial adviser, and John Corradetti and Dorothy Collier were on the business staff. They assisted in the solicitation of advertisements for the yearbook.

Shelby Webb, art editor, was under the supervision of Miss Borden. Their chief task was in mounting the pictures and in helping to plan the page layouts.

As sports editor, Gerald Lottinville sought to give our teams the best publicity they have had in years. Thelma Parker was in charge of the faculty section. Helen Jordan was class editor. Feature editor Marion Pfeil helped write the final pages of the book. Frederick Knauss was in charge of the activity section.

THE PLAY MUST GO ON

That was the motto of the Advanced Dramatics Club as it worked diligently to prepare the senior class play, "Ever Since Eve," for the footlights. Most of the cast were members of the club. Miss Puterbaugh directed the club through the play. After she resigned, Miss Southgate became sponsor of the group. Many of the members became Thespians for their work in dramatics. During the second semester, the club was generally inactive, some members helping to coach the Beginning Dramatics Club, and some working on makeup.

"EVER SINCE EVE?"

Full of dramatic action and heart-rend'ng bathos, the senior class play was a smash hit. The story narrates the trials and tribulations of Johnny Clover, portrayed by "Buttercup" MacMurray, who wishes to run a paper without the aid of women. In this tenet he was ably abetted by Spud Irwin ("Jeep" Powell), and their pet peeves were Susan Blake (Olive Flodin), and Betsy, Spud's sister (Barbara Baker). Lucybelle Lee, the torrid southern belle (Ruth MacMurray) was the femme fatale that managed to call back Johnny and Spud from the realms of the woman-haters. The struggles of Johnny against the measles, the struggles of the girls to finance the paper (they ended up in running a slot machine), and the supreme obliviousness of Cappy, the comical cop (Dana Elliott)—all lent a hilarious atmosphere to the production.

THE FINER ART

"Music hath the power to sooth the savage beast," said a sage. Though Bloom's students could not be called savages, they flocked to join our musical organizations. Pictured here are the heads of Bloom's musical departments. Mr. C. H. Kickert, finishing his fifth year at Bloom as conductor of the Mixed and Select Choruses, has greatly enlarged the group. Mr. Paris, coming to Bloom to replace Mr. Eric Schee, who resigned last year, has led the orchestra through an eventful season. Mr. C. G. Crumb, senior musical mentor, has completed his fourteenth year at Bloom. This year he was ably assisted by Billy Clark, student director, and Shirley Westphal, secretary of the band.

THEY LED THE BAND

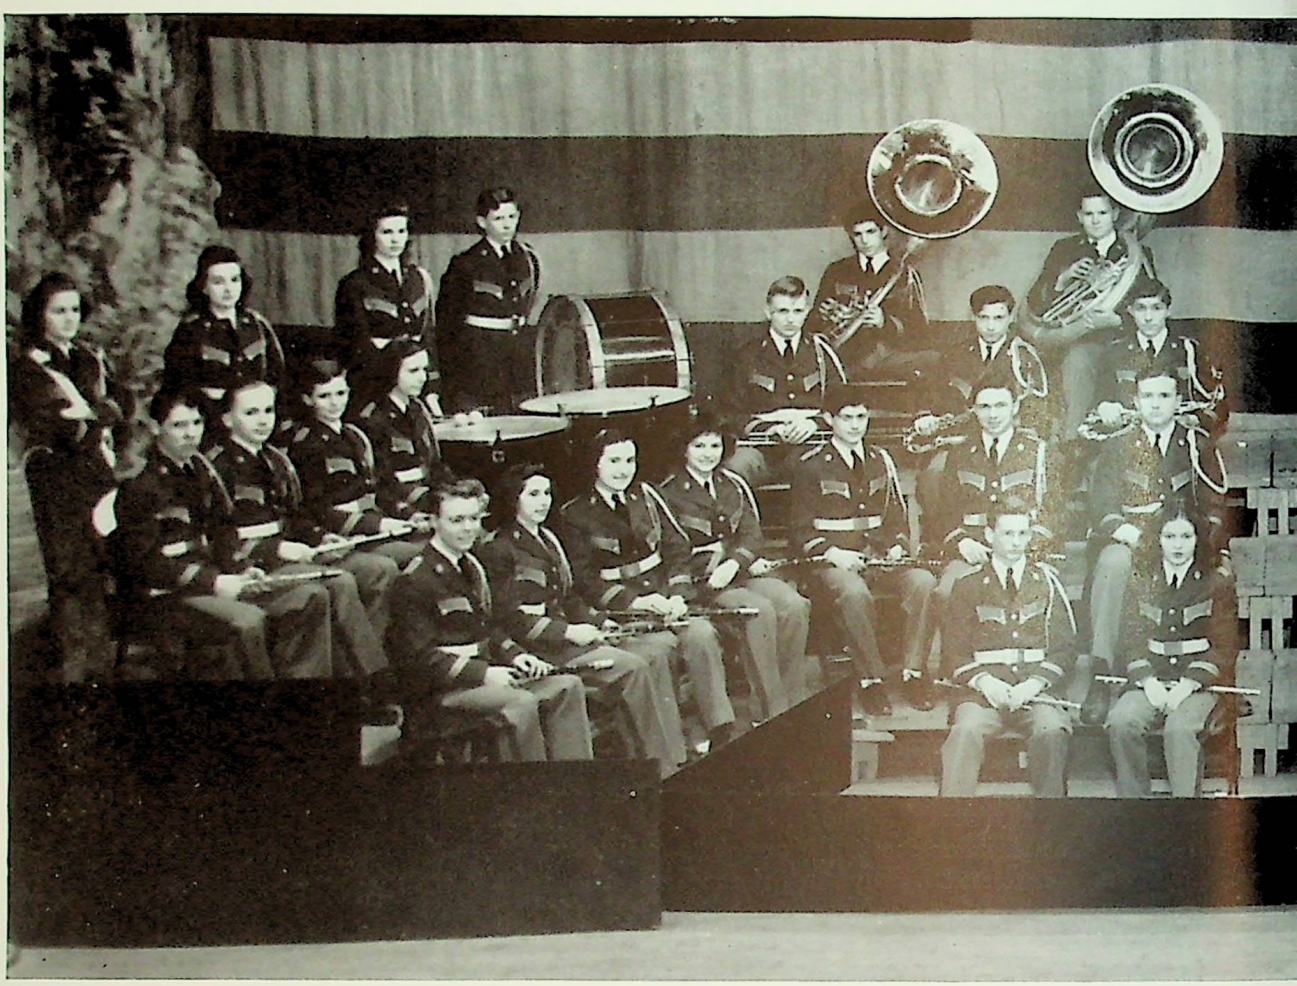

Vigorously twirling their batons, the Drum Majorettes appeared with the band at all home football games. The blue-and-white uniforms of the Flag Twirlers contrasted vividly with the red-and-white of the baton spinners. The ten flag girls were a new attraction with the band this year.

THE BAND

Having sounded the final note of another musical year, this one as eminently successful as any of those preceding, the Bloom Band can look back with satisfaction on the variegated schedule it has brought to completion.

The colorful exhibition of marching ability, which was displayed between the halves at home football games when the weather permitted, was received with manifest appreciation by the patrons of the games. The marching personnel of the band was augmented this year by the addition of a corps of attractive flag carriers. These ten girls cooperated with the drum majorettes and military guard in leading the band.

Between the halves of the Bloom versus Thornton Fractional football game, which was held at the latter school, the band engaged in a joint demonstration of marching, baton-spinning, and flag-twirling with the band of Calumet City.

Throughout the basketball season, the band undertook the task of entertaining the spectators between the halves of the contests held here. Their spirited music often incited the boys of Bloom to even greater efforts on the hardwood. This spring the band played a concert of patriotic and popular music before the students in assembly.

Honoring the boys now engaged in fighting in World War Two, the band presented its outstanding concert of the year on March 8. The Patriotic Prelude opened with the "Spirit of '76," Spanish War Veterans, and Veterans of the World War One and Two. The formal concert followed.

CHORAL

THE SONGBIRDS OF BLOOM

Sing a song of sixpence. No, sing something peppier—shall we say a funeral march? A choir composed of girls, however, is bound to croon songs with more life than that in them.

The Girls' Select Chorus, under the able direction of Mr. C. Kickert, sang its way into the very hearts of those who listened. Their appearance at the Homewood Women's Club was received with approbation. The Flossmoor P.T.A. also was given a display of their vocal talents. They took an important part in the Music Americana Pageant, which was held in the Washington School auditorium. An appearance was also made before the Steger Grade School P.T.A. The pupils of Bloom became acquainted with them during an assembly.

GROUPS

A CASUAL INCHOIRY

"Listen! Do you hear that heavenly music? We must be in a musical vocality; it seems to be all around us! Notice that booming bass, that lilting soprano. There come the tenors in. It sounds like the Bloom Choir."

And that's what it was. The Choir sang many times during the past year. In September they appeared before the Men's Club in Homewood. They held a program in assembly for the students, and cooperated with the dramatics department to put on a Christmas pageant. They took part in the Music Americana Pageant at Washington School. A music festival with Joliet High is on schedule. Ray Hawkins was president of the choir.

THEY PULLED

Cello again, folks. Pardon me for horning in, but I felt I had to make myself clarinet. (Oboe, is this going to be cornety and viol.) But then, this business of writing about an orchestra has many things of violints about it.

When Mr. Eric Schee resigned last year, the direc orship of the orchestra came into the capable hands of Mr. John Paris, and he has handled the reins well during his first season in that capacity.

The orchestra has played often and well during the past year; and Bloom can be justly proud of its performances.

The itinerary included an outside concert at Homewood, where they conducted themselves with distinction. Playing in a school assembly, they entertained the students with their well-chosen selections.

SENIOR CLASS

Beat those drums! Blow those bugles! The Senior year passes in review—and what a year! The largest class in quite some time enjoyed a really swell Senior mixer, and a super Dinner-Dance! Coke sales at social hours and candy sales after school and at games helped to lower class dues considerably. "Ever Since Eve," the class play, sold out the house and then some, and brought some new "Bette Davises" and "Clark Gables" to the front! Many outstanding leaders —and followers—will make this Senior class an unforgettable one!

IN MEMORIAM

JACK FASO

December 17, 1924—August 17, 1941

PRODUCTION

The Following is the Production Schedule for the Fiscal Year Beginning September 9, 1941, and Ending June 5, 1942. Company officials compliment employees on production successes.

SEPTEMBER—This Bloom factory began a new season with 1800 employees going strong. Few mix-ups occurred as they started the assembly line rolling.
Bloom government went over the proverbial top in activity sales.

OCTOBER—Production slowed down to a snail's pace and workers plodded to the plant with nothing to break the monotony but a game with the Cal City steam fitters.

NOVEMBER—Senior thespians took over plant for annual play—quite a relief from the production end. "Ever Since Eve" was the attraction—even got the big boss out.
Outstanding athletic relaxation of the month was the clash with the rivals from Thornton. Employees gave bonus to employer as they celebrated a 6 to 0 victory. It caused further celebration since the victory had knocked away the Wildcats' hopes for a South Suburban championship.

DECEMBER—Time out! Keeping ahead of production gave workers two weeks' vacation "with pay." Santa arrived, too! Junior Penny Social made a hit with foreman P. R. Busey judging the violations made by patrons.

SCHEDULE

JANUARY — Foremen tested ability of skilled workmen. Loud were the moans and groans as records were published and the quarter ended.
We bade adieu to the old year as he was pensioned off for good service. 1942 was hired to fill his place at much better salary.

FEBRUARY—Visiting official from St. Valentine paused to go over latest palpitations of machinery hearts. Also had 117 new sub-apprentices who came in and quickly became initiated on the line.
J. C. ventured forth on the second, saw his shadow, and dropped over dead. However, we'll still have six weeks of cold weather without his highness.

MARCH—The new time schedule went into effect today. It speeded up production and put unique Bloom factory on running schedule with the rest of the town.
Intramural basketball department awarded prize to "mite"y seniors, who went six stretches to grab title.

APRIL—All received bonuses as production rushed to maximum heights with the Senior Dinner-Dance.

MAY — The factory's annual was presented to manager Meade for inspection and criticism. Evidently all was okay for copies were distributed to all the employees as the year's handbook and direction guide.

JUNE—VICTORY TO OUR COUNTRY! (incidentally to our factory, too).
The sad ending to a lovely four years of pushing out raw materials into finished products occurred when the senior workers heard the whistle blow for the last time. They received sheepskins as momentos of their loyal service.

CLASS WILL

We, the senior class of the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and forty-two, being proclaimed of sane mind and as well as can be expected, do hereby bequeath a few of our valued qualities and possessions to our alma mater's unsuspecting under classmen. Being fully aware of our superior intellect, clearly sensing our magnanimity, and recognizing the fact that said underclassmen will esteem certain of these endowments and possessions, we willingly part with them that they may be better put to use.

* * * * *

I, William Allen, Jr., gathering my dignified (?) mayoralty cloak about me, generously bequeath my membership in the Matteson Alumni association to any junior sucker. Notice is hereby given that all my past interests have been relinquished to those same juniors.

Satan forces me, Midge Fiebig, to leave to the Glenwood boys surrounding my locker the same wrong opinion about the examples of feminine art that are hung so decorously on the door.

To Mr. Sears, I, Donald Cameron, apologetically leave all the stray little protons that are floating around in space. May he capture them for next year's physics class.

To Thornton, I, Tony Coccia, leave the hope that some other enterprising football guard will be able to play on a Bloom team that defeated the Wildcats three times and tied once. After that they'll just be tame little pussies.

In the hopes that Ray Page and Ervin Folta will break my five and a half year endurance at Bloom I, Bob Burgan, leave them a twenty-five year calendar.

I, Virginia Antonucci, bequeath to anyone fond of getting his "A" for the day, the job of giving Miss Smith's greenery its daily drink of H_2O.

Because Eddie Dionne cannot read or write, I, Merlin the Magnificent, attest to the fact that he does willingly bequeath 10 extra seconds to some little freshie who isn't quite as adept as Eddie at getting here on time in the ayem.

I, George Fetherling, will my flashy motorcycle jacket to "Fish" Kane. Now see if you can dodge the metal rationing board as long as I have.

Frank Kovach is the lucky goof to get Bill Spelbring's extreme timidity around members of the opposite sex.—Again attested to by Merlin the Magnificent for the same obvious reasons.

We, Jack Starkey and Delphine Tatge, leave Miss Futcher in a state of nervous collapse. Our last wish is that someone please console her after we are gone.

Next year's Thornton golf chumps are to have the proverbial daylights knocked out of them by the brassie, I, Leno Sebastiani, leave to Ray Izzarelli.

I, Norman Paulton, leave my excuse of a car to Carl Muench—provided the returns from his income tax allow him to keep its oil tank from dying of thirst.

To the mice, I, Martha Pahnke, leave "Off the Cob." They've had their big pink eyes on it for so long.

Speaking from experience as Broadcaster editor, I, Jeep Powell, will all my screwball ideas to anybody who needs a screwball idea—provided they are a screwball. Sounds screwy to me.

I, Marion Pfeil, leave my day dreams in sixth hour English class to anyone else who's bored with life as I am. (Ed. Note: People like that I'd like to annihilate.)

I, Phil Landolina, leave my place on the football splinter squad to my cuz, Joe Piazza.

We, Shirly Vanderwalker and Ruth Martin, leave our inner sanctum, the annual room, to next year's staff, and hope that they will be as successful in keeping it away from the wolves of the City of Bloom as we have been.

I know that I, Frank Olivieri, just leave Bloom as the scene of my scholastic triumph where my grades went over like a submarine.

After I bequeath Jimmie Schulze to Miss Hess (may he get along with her as well as I always have) I, Bob Lupien, am leaving on the first train west.

I, Ray Kloss, leave Bloom with the knowledge that I am not the only senior feeling bad because he is leaving.

A "Smattering of Ignorance" is given by me, June Krause, to George Buttell just in case his own amount is not enough.

I, Warren Kurth, leave Bruce Goodman and "Slow Motion" Yanson to look after Coach Sarff and keep him on the straight and narrow.

About the only thing, I, Jeanne Jones, have that anyone wants are my slacks. These I give to the eager freshies who came into Bloom in kneepants.

I, Helen Jordan, will my place in "Crummie's" band to someone who can play a clarinet in a more "crummie" manner.

All my beautiful gal friends I, Bob Schmitt, will to Tom Cooney. In doing this, I sincerely hope he can take care of all of them as I did without getting into trouble.

There's nothing I, Bill Waddington, can leave but Barbara Angus to the wolves that infest her locker. But I'll be back!!!!

I, Bernice Zydlewski, leave to Andrew Zagorski, my patience and endurance at being at the very end of the alphabet. May he rise to a higher level in the future.

We, Jeanette Sala and Virginia Labuda, leave Bloom's faculty still wondering which is which. But we know.

I, Josie Zarante, leave that last mile to homeroom to Mary Lou Bradley knowing that she can run it as quickly as I have for the last four years.

Having nothing, I, Jack Davis, shall will nothing so that nobody will be disappointed for not getting something I haven't got.

We, Celestine and Ernestine Brooks, leave sister Claudia Mae to carry on alone without our bossing.

I, Louis Scartozzi, leave my position as Coach Nelson's left hand man to Bob Peterson, a kindred soul.

Biggest gift of all I, Matt Gromala, give to Bloom—hope. That is hope that I get married and have about 12 (twelve) kids and send them all to Bloom.

(Ed. Note) Because there are so many seniors looking out for Mr. Busey's welfare we were going to enter a special section in this document but the copy got delayed in the censor's office in 225 so we give you only several of the nicer items willed to Mr. Busey.

I, Dick Wolff, leave Bloom hoping that Midshipman Busey will fulfill his ambition of becoming Admiral of Butterfield Creek.

I, Trevor Moore, leave my ability to tell long and tiresome stories of doubtful truth to Mr. Busey, who, incidentally, doesn't need it.

I, Jerry Lottinville, am changing my mind about what I will leave Mr. Busey because I haven't got my diploma yet. However, it was a swell idea.

Because they are always hungry, I, Marion Thoeming, leave my girl friends, Irene Lightstone and Gloria Thomas, a good old Thoeming special meal. Hope they don't die of "Thoeming poisoning."

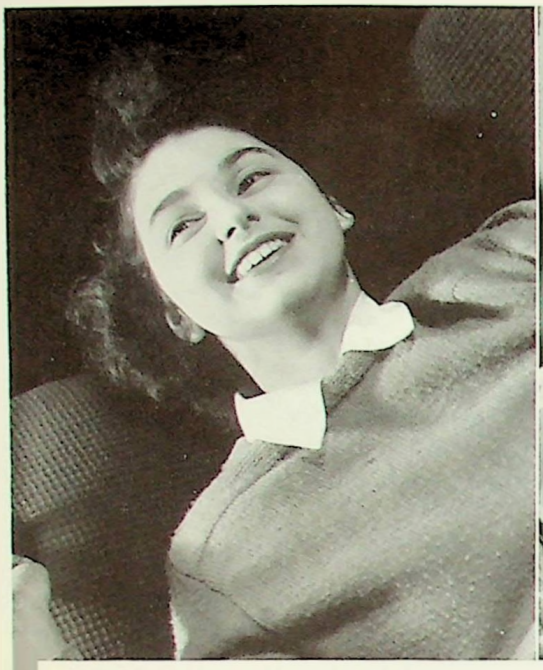

We, Stanley Paciorek and Eddie Czyz, in closing this last will and testament of the class of '42, leave to anyone who doesn't have it and can't have it but would like to have it, the good old Bloom Township High School.

(Signed)

CLASS PROPHECY

Yogi Yama, the all-seeing eye, peers into the deep and mystic future of the class of 1942. "I see the ravages of ruin that the graduates of that year have done to their good old town and country since they were loosed on the spirit world. Even the spooks in this seance are evacuating the hereafter in favor of the little heck- (censored) raisers from Bloom."

* * * * *

A merry little image flits across my crystal. Aha! I see that it is Dana Elliott running along with two tires slung across his arms. However, I don't think they're his own 'cause Vernon Manuel is running after him and that isn't a bellboy's uniform he's wearing.

* * * * *

There were three studious seniors who ended their career at Bloom in '42 and are still continuing on at college in '52. They are Bill Waddington, Notre Dame; Joan Meyers, Thornton J. C.; and Eddie Stanich, any number of institutions so far.

* * * * *

Twirling my ball once more, I can see what is left of a famous airliner that advertised Elizabeth Showalter as its chief and most attractive hostess. Seems like Liz had to take over the controls when the pilot stepped out for a short coke and ——well, you know these women drivers.

* * * * *

Carol Senne insists she's worked hard for the past ten years. Since when is modeling luscious fur coats at Vogue a "hard" job.

* * * * *

When James Pappalardo, Eddie Dionne, Charles Toepfer, and Louis Tremaroli graduated they had high plans for entering fine, shiny jobs behind the desk but they reckoned without Uncle Sam. They ended up in the armed legions slapping Japs.

* * * * *

Memo in the upper right hand corner of my ball calls attention to the fact that Marion Thoeming, Gloria Thomas, Ruth Martin, and Marion Pfeil are still going around together. Only now they have a new object in life—they're trying to figure out a way to get their share out of the defense bond their class gave as a gift.

* * * * *

There's horse-thief Tommie Woods who left Bloom on the hot trail of a member of that equine race but it turned out to be only George Flemming—four-footed in the wolfy sense of the word.

* * * * *

Noticed your man and my man (plus the brass band) John Wozny still running for a political office after ten years. Also maintains Louie Matusiak as cam(pain) manager.

* * * * *

Stanley Kowalski, the great District Attorney, is now a member of the bar. It's all legal though. Have a seltzer, boys.

* * * * *

There's Bob Kraus gassing about his Fuller-brush salesmanship to all the busy little housewives. He got his foot permanently mangled the other day when one ornery customer slammed the door on it. Bobbie's not on the beam of late—kinda slow on the outtake.

* * * * *

Noticed Lyle Kendall and Bob Barwig in Mexico digging for oil to get rich. So far they managed to get down as far as the little anglers but they're cleaning up a nice profit selling them to the fishermen.

* * * * *

Worrying for ten years has reduced Arlene Irwin's mind to a frazzle. She's still worrying about a certain boy in the army and it isn't General MacArthur.

* * * * *

Ray Hawkins laughing at his own jokes with his bridge-work hanging out is continuously pleading with his students to part with a little of the rubber they've been hoarding and buy him a new set of gums.

* * * * *

We appeal to Willis (Curly) Smith to quit his fishing in Northern Wisconsin and come back to dear ole Chicago Heights to fish—for women, no doubt.

* * * * *

Don't know how Joe Di Giovani managed to keep his job as ambulance driver for Gerardi funeral home for these ten long years. With his driving I'm surprised he hasn't brought himself as business.

* * * * *

Yogi didn't have any notice from Betty Gullick and Jeanne Jones since they left Bloom to go to California to work—Lockheed, maybe?

* * * * *

Johnny Zarante took it on the lam for Uncle Sam after graduation. They wouldn't let him go as a Yank so he went as a jerk.

* * * * *

Joe (Ignorance is) Bliss went into the Marines soon after sheepskin time ready to accept any position from Captain to Major. However, he's advanced only as far as deck-scrubber first class with two smudges on his sleeve.

* * * * *

Ah, yes, and then there's Dick Blackhall—still everybody's dream girl.

* * * * *

If you hear a loud boom one of these days, you'll know it's those two screwballs Martha Pahnke and Venturina Georgi. They are celebrating their tenth year of tapping bombs to see if they are duds or not. And everyone always says the third time's the charm.

OUR BEST WISHES TO THE

CLASS OF 1942

THE CITIZENS NATIONAL BANK

Ken Currier is in a right profitable racket, if I may say so. Runs the town's leading Lease and Loan Bank. No co-signers, no security. All you have to do is go down and see Kennie and leave three of the fingers on the right hand as proof you'll pay back. If you arrive after hours, Bob DeBoer will let you in. He's the janitor there.

* * * * *

Yogi ran across Joe Spotora and James Bogan last Monday. For ten years they waited for the draft board to call their numbers but they're still restin' and waitin'.

* * * * *

The little carrot-topped whizz of the '42 class, Colleen Schmitt, captured her man soon after graduation and she's now feeding carrots to ten little images.

* * * * *

Tom Hazlewood didn't make much of himself after getting his release certificate. He's too busy visiting friends and relatives on week-ends and recuperating on week days to bother much about success.

* * * * *

For chicken in the rough, Yogi usually consults Dave Paarlberg and Ray Kloss who have made a great deal in their "cluck-cluck" business on the farm.

* * * * *

All of Yogi's heathen brethern have recently been converted to the faith by Anglican Priest William Clark who, after striving nearly six years has practically converted old Yogi himself.

* * * * *

Trevor de Moore, still attempting to outdo DeMille on productions, is using his small boy ideas on a new super-special called "Moore's Extravaganza" starring Trev Moore as Trevie the hero, with Moore directing and Moore producing. Incidentally—with Moore getting the profits too.

* * * * *

By the way in the above production you might discover Barbara Baker as Betsy who always annoys the hero, Olive Flodin as the vicious sireeeen, and Wallie Schwartz as the H_2O boy in the night club scene.

* * * * *

* * * * *

Holy snake dancers! One beauty, Thelma Holden, went to another beauty—beauty school to learn how to be more beautiful.

* * * * *

Some of those Bloom kids have been getting so much vitamin V_1 that they flit across my ball so fast I can only get a glimpse of them. Oops! Almost missed Harry Sedik, Earl Suhrbier, and Bob Calvert, who are designing airplanes without propellers in Uncle Sam's defense factories. Happy landings, boys. Hope you get them off terra firma.

* * * * *

SOUND managerial policies and long, successful experience have provided us with sufficient equipment, adequate personnel, and ample resources to render dependable service as artists and makers of fine printing plates. That you will be secure from chance, is our first promise.

"Jahn and Ollier Again"

Eleanor Hoffman just went by in her snazzy army nurse's uniform. She's hoping privates, George Souliotis and Eddie Haskell, will stop asking for sick leave from drill just so she can hold their pinkies (hands to you).

* * * * *

Wonder if you'd be interested in the next young lady's occupation. She's Evelyn Williams and she hunts big game. No, not men, you dopes.

* * * * *

Missionary June Jurgensen sent me a wire the other day asking for a donation to a good cause—that of establishing a trust fund for worthy porcupines. Sorta touchy proposition, don't you think—or don't you think?

* * * * *

Bloom's brain-storms, Thelma Parker, Carolyn Stevenson, and Melvel Paris, are now bosom-buddies of Einstein. They're telling him all about the fifth dimension.

* * * * *

* * * * *

Yogi gives credit to Shirley Westphal who finally gave up all her band boy friends in favor of a career of teacher to a bunch of kindergarteners. Each child leaves with a thorough knowledge of how to lead a band.

* * * * *

And then there was Irene Capriotti who got out of this burg as soon as possible and stayed out for good.

* * * * *

Shirly Vanderwalker came back to Bloom this year to take over the sponsorship of the ANNUAL from Grandma Thompson.

* * * * *

* * * * *

Keptomaniacal tendencies have landed Ed Kudlaty in Alcatraz along with Bro Ted for fifty long years. Now they are just kept.

* * * * *

Yogi closes this prophecy with one last dig that he couldn't help. Everybody's doin' it. Doin' what? Why buying Holy Roman erasers put out by the "poisonality" kid—Ed Janis. He believes in helping his former classmates for all the offices are filled by them. Business manager is Quido Sandrone; laboratory technician is Bob Burgoon (since he was so exceptional in Nelson's chemistry class); office manager is Ralph Brauer; and finally there's Carolyn Williams, just as the gal who comes around when Ed's not busy.
